

Prof. K. K. Anand's NATIONWIDE Reward Program

Smart India is a knowledge management organization that strives to bring about big changes in science and research, in small ways. The Smart India portal is rich in information regarding competitive exams and can help transform Young India to Smart India.

SITE' 12 is a Smart India initiative, a nation-wide talent exam. It is a testing and training program that helps identify and nurture scientific skills and aptitude in school students. Students who are aspiring to excel at national and international competitive exams like IITJEE, AIEEE, BITSAT, AIPMT, SAT-1, SAT- II, NTSE, KVPY, NSO and other Olympiads can take this exam to evaluate their knowledge, ability and give them direction to achieve their goals.

Myeducationtimes.com along with Prof. K. K. Anand of SMART, presents SITE 2012 - the talent reward exam. The exam is being held on 8th January, 2012 at various centres in South India for students between classes V to X and class XII. Students will be tested in areas of science, mathematics, linguistic skills and mental ability. Top performers will be rewarded with prizes worth several lakhs and scholarships to the best curriculum-enhancement programs in the country.

The registration fee for SITE 2012 is Rs 200. The last date for online registration is on 7th January 2012. However, the offline registration continues till the date of the exam.

Examination Centers

PG College, Secunderabad
Loyola College, Vijayawada
VR College, Nellore

To know more about SITE, contact the help desk personnel at 044 65 455 455 or log on to www.thesite.co.in